

Do you recognize these two apps?

Omegle is an app that lets teens talk to STRANGERS! Teens can also access Omegle through a web browser. There are two video chat modes--monitored and unmonitored. This is definitely an app parents should restrict their teens from using!

Chatroulette is an online website that allows random users or people to connect and chat with each other through webcam, text – chat and mic. Random people from around the world are able to connect with each other and have conversations.

Not only are users chatting with strangers, they could be chatting with a fake stranger.
